County reduces seats

Larger municipalities get fairer vote share

Haliburton County council will have three fewer members after the next municipal election. Deputy reeves of Snowdon, Cardiff and Monmouth Townships will lose their seats when a by-law to restructure county council under Section 28 of The Municipal Act comes into effect in December, 1985. The by-law was passed despite dissenting votes from representatives of some of the county's smaller municipalities.

Notice of motion for the change was given at the March meeting of council. Management committee chairman Murray Fearrey brought it to the table last Wednesday. Fearrey noted that question of representation "has been before council on several occasions," and was "left over" from when Haliburton got full county status last year.

"It's time that a decision was made to adopt what we have now or make changes for the next municipal election," Fearrey told council.

The Dysart et al reeve presented statistics showing the relationship between apportionment and voting power under Section 27 regulations in place for a number of years, and Section 28 regulations proposed for adoption.

In regular votes, each member carries equal authority, but greater weight is assigned to some members when a recorded vote is required. Under the old system, a total of 29 recorded votes were spread among 19 members. But the votes did not reflect the financial responsibilities of the municipalities. Anson, Hindon and Minden, which pays almost 17 percent of the county's budget, carried only 14 percent of the vote under Section 27, but that would rise to 16 percent under Section 28 representation, Fearrey said. Dysart, which provides more than one third of the local taxes spent by the county, had only 14 percent of the vote under Section 27, and this would rise to 21 percent under the new system. Fearrey indicated.

Shifts also would occur in the voting power of other municipalities to bring it more in line with apportionment, but the major consequence of adopting Section 28 would be to eliminate seats for deputy reeves of Cardiff, Monmouth and Snowdon, since each of the three municipalities have fewer than the 2500 electors required for two county council seats.

Fearrey said it was "unfortunate" that the matter had to be dealt with, since it meant three members could lose their seats, but "the whole matter is whether municipalities feel that this is fair, or that it isn't fair."

Snowdon reeve Bob Vick, who has consistently opposed the idea of restructuring county council, said he could not see any benefit to adopting Section 28 regulations, since "only one municipality" (Dysart) would gain by the change.

But Fearrey responded that if councillors likened themselves to shareholders in a company, they would want representation based on their percentage of ownership, or in the case of municipalities, on their ability to pay.

Vick said he felt the change would mean that "three townships will run

KinArk agrees to set up childrens mental health

A children's mental health service will begin operating in Haliburton County this summer, directors of KinArk child and family services have announced.

The new service will be aimed at local youngsters, and will replace KinArk's 30 bed residential operation, which is moving to the Oshawa area.

Allan Vallillee, assistant executive director of KinArk, said that when plans to move the KinArk operation out of Haliburton County were announced, the provincial Minister of Community and Social Services asked the organization to consider developing a mental health service aimed specifically at Haliburton County youngsters who could be serviced in a non residential setting. Talks with representatives of health, education, justice and social service agencies were begun, and a needs study was carried out by the Haliburton County Children's Services Advisory Committee. The process identified a need for family counselling services, counselling for young people, and day treatment programs.

Vallillee said the new service is expected to cost about $250,000. Initially, eight youngsters and their families who have been assisted by KinArk will be served, but the program is expected to grow. Up to 30 youngsters may be involved by year's end, Vallillee said.

The program will encompass counselling services for children and families, as well as a day treatment program using two teachers from the Haliburton County Board of Education. A location for the program has not been finalized, but Vallillee said it would probably operate in Haliburton, since most school bus routes terminate in the village.

In addition to the two teachers who will be employed through the board, the program will have a staff of two child care workers, a social worker, a counsellor, a program director and clerical worker.

The program is expected to be underway in mid summer, and will be fully operational by January of next year.

KinArk will continue to operate its provincial summer camp program near Carnarvon.

Budget hurts tourism: Eakins

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

Tourist operators are the big losers in the 1984 Provincial budget, John Eakins, MPP for Victoria-Haliburton, said in a recent press release. Eakins, who is the opposition critic for Tourism and Recreation, said that once again the Ontario Budget has failed to "effectively deal with our tourism sector."

In an interview, Eakins said he was "disappointed" by the 9.2 percent reduction in funding for the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation that was included in the new budget. Eakins cited figures which indicated that the number of visitors to Ontario from the United States has dropped by 20.1 percent since 1981, and blamed provincial taxes on items such as tobacco, alcohol, gasoline and food as a major factor in discouraging Americans from spending their vacations in Ontario.

"The province is taxing people to death, especially Americans," he said. He also noted that Ontario is one of only two provinces that does not provide a tax exempt meal.

Eakins also was critical of the government's new measure which allows out-of-province visitors to apply for a rebate on the five percent provincial accommodation tax. Eakins said the bother of

Spring Fling treats crowd to spectacular fireworks

By ELIZABETH CHURCH

Despite threatening storm clouds and a few brief showers, Haliburton's second annual Spring Fling brought out local residents and visitors to Head Lake Park.

The activities, which began early Sunday afternoon, included horse-shoe and shuffleboard contests, a tennis tournament, a canoe race down Drag River and foot races for children of various age groups. Winners of the events received a silver dollar, second place finishers were given a 50 cent piece and all other participants received 25 cents for their efforts. A bake sale was also held on the boardwalk near the entrance to the park.

Throughout the course of the afternoon, onlookers were given the opportunity to be entertained by some of Haliburton's local performers at the bandshell. The Senior Elementary School Band directed by Don Wright began the program following the opening ceremonies. The Highland Dixie Band treated the audience later in the afternoon to a number of jazz favourites. The entertainment at the bandshell was concluded with a long awaited break in the clouds and a performance by the Scottish Country Dancers and the Legion Pipe Band. Later in the evening, an open air church service was held at the bandshell. The service, sponsored by the Halibur-ton Ministerial Association, was conducted by Salvation Army leader Captain Sid Buell.

Following the events of the day, the announcement of the winners of the lucky draw was made. Muriel Peters of Haliburton won a weekend for two at the PineStone Inn. Pam Iles, also of Haliburton, received a weekend for two at Wig-A-Mog, while Allen Arbutnot of Minden won $188 in the 50-50 draw.

After sunset, the Fling ended with a fireworks display set off over Head Lake. Although there were some difficulties with timing, the fireworks attracted the largest crowd of the day as people and cars jammed the roads around the lake.

Police news

General Occurrences

During the period of May 14 - 20, 1984, personnel at Minden Detachment investigated the following occurrences: nine motor vehicle accidents, in which seven persons were injured; and 84 general occurrences, including 16 liquor infractions, 10 thefts, seven break and enters, five damage and four noise complaints.

Single Car Accident

A single car accident occurred on Highway 35 at Moores Falls on Sunday when a front seat passenger, unfamiliar with the controls on the console of a leased 1982 Ford Lincoln, inadvertently moved the driver's seat instead of his own. On Saturday, May 19 at 2:50 a.m., on the Essonville Line in Monmouth Township, Alan Espie, 20, of Dysart Township, lost control of his '78 Datsun on a curve. The vehicle entered the ditch and rolled over, sustaining $5,000 damage. Passenger Jack McPhail, 19, of Haliburton, received serious injuries and was taken by ambulance to Lindsay Hospital. Espie had only minor injuries. He was charged with careless driving.

Correction

Nurse Nancy Wood was incorrectly identified in a cutline under a picture which appeared on page 3 of last week's Echo. The error is regretted.

Within the next three years, Haliburton County roads department will rebuild a portion of the Harburn Road near Haliburton, and prime the rest of the road to Fort Irwin. Trees have been cut down to mark the new path of the road. Construction will be carried out in sections as funds are made available.

Minden council

Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council met May 10 and considered the following matters:

Constable Barry Connelly of the Minden O.P.P. detachment attended regarding the proposed anti-drinking/driving committee recommended by the Ministry of the Attorney General. Constable Connelly agreed to provide pamphlets, posters, films, etc. and offered to sit on the committee if requested, and report back to council with information.

Norm Mills of Minden Auction Centre was present regarding his proposal to establish a Country Market concept on his property. Council supported the concept in principal and agreed that the matter of licencing fees for the various vendors will be reviewed at a future date.

Dave Willis attended. Council approved the proposal by D. Willis to hold the Heineken Yark on Friday, July 27, 1984 and agreed to close off a portion of Main Street from County Road No. 2 to Peck St. to permit the proper safety for the runners involved.

Council had no objections to the Minden Hustler's proposal to host an annual baseball tournament in Minden Approved Park on a date to be determined and approves the operation of a bavarian garden in conjunction with the tournament on part of Lot 5, Concession A, Township of Minden; subject to the approval of the Minden Recreation Committee. County settles with CUPE

Haliburton County council has reached wage settlements with unionized employees at Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home and the county roads department.

Personnel committee chairman Ron Gambell told council that the settlements, ratified by county council last Wednesday, are within the five percent guidelines advocated by the provincial government.

Hyland Crest workers who are members of Canadian Union of Public Employees local 1260 will receive an across the board wage increase of 45 cents an hour during the one year term of the contract.

Road workers, who are members of CUPE local 1225, will receive an identical wage increase. The contract with road workers also establishes a new policy regarding overtime. Workers must now say at the beginning of a six month period whether they want overtime hours paid in additional wages or additional holidays. Time off is to be taken at the discretion of the employer, the county roads department. If an agreement on days off cannot be reached, the employer now has the option of paying additional wages for the overtime hours.

In the past, according to Gambell, workers have been able to call in and say they would be absent for overtime earned holidays on short notice. The new clause gives the roads department more say in when workers may take time off.

Accidents down over holiday

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

Fewer motor vehicle accidents took place this Victoria Day Weekend than in previous years. In a weekly news release, the Minden OPP detachment reported that there were nine car accidents during the week of the Victoria holiday. This figure marks a drop from the 11 mishaps reported in 1983 and the 20 which occurred in 1982.

The Minden detachment also reported a decline in the number of police related occurrences over the long weekend. Eighty-four general occurrences were reported this year as compared to 125 in 1983 and 120 in 1982. Included in these figures is a 50 percent drop in break and enters, from 14 in 1983 to seven in 1984, and a reduction in the number of impaired driving charges from 16 in 1983 to four over this past weekend.

The decline in the number of offences and the number of accidents on the roads is attributed to an increase in manpower over the holiday weekend. This year, as in previous years, additional officers and vehicles were brought in from neighbouring detachments due to the influx of a large number of motorcyclists in the Minden area. Personnel from District Headquarters in Peterborough and from General Headquarters in Toronto were also used throughout Haliburton County.

Tax loss concerns county

Local municipalities may be losing as much as $640,000 in potential taxes because provincial grants for tax exempt properties do not reflect assessments on those properties, Haliburton County council believes.

County management committee chairman Murray Fearrey said it is clear that the tax-in-lieu program under which municipalities get extra grants to compensate for lost taxes on properties owned by organizations with tax exempt status "is not adequate". Fearrey told county council that municipalities could be losing as much as $640,000 in "real taxation" because of the disparity.

The Dysart reeve noted that the issue is "very political" and would "be very difficult to deal with." But he suggested that county representatives should take a close look at the problem and come up with some suggestions which could be taken to provincial officials.

Council agreed to the proposal, but no specific deadline for examining the question was established at last Wednesday's county council session.

Name change opposed

Haliburton County council has backed up Glamorgan and Snowdon Townships in opposing a proposed name change for Salerno Lake. The two townships brought a motion to county council last Wednesday objecting to a Ministry of Natural Resources proposal to rename the water body as Devil's Lake.

the county" (Dysart, Anson Hindon and Minden, and Stanhope), but Fearrey replied that he would "not be dragged into that argument". He appealed "to the intelligence of the members" to see that even with the change brought about by adopting Section 28, the three largest municipalities could not carry a recorded vote if most of the smaller municipalities were opposed to it.

Monmouth reeve Keith Tallman sided with Vick in opposing the loss of his deputy reeve. He said there already is "a rift with the eastern part of the county, and claimed 'this will open it further.'"

Bicroft reeve Bill Howe noted that while his municipality was not directly affected by the proposed change, he was in favour of it. He urged councillors to "look beyond personal involvement."

"We're here to do a job," he said. "I see nothing wrong with the proposal and I will support it if it comes to a vote."

Snowdon deputy reeve Dwain Wruth felt municipal politics, and county council in particular, might suffer if deputy reeves were denied a chance to learn about the operation of the county by sitting on county council.

But Fearrey countered that there was no guarantee any member of county council would be reelected in his or her own municipality. The pattern has not often been that deputy reeves move up to become reeves, Fearrey said.

Monmouth deputy reeve Harry Clark also was against the proposed restructuring, claiming that the loss of three members of council would place an added workload on the other 16 members.

"I feel that the deputy reeves should stay," Clark said.

Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell sided with Fearrey and other members who stressed that representation should more closely reflect the townships' financial obligations to the county. He said that under the existing system of representation, small municipalities can block matters that are of great importance to larger municipalities.

"If you owned half the company, you'd want half the say," Gambell said. "I don't think it's fair."

When a recorded vote was called on whether or not to prepare a by-law to adopt Section 28 regulations, it carried with 18 yes and 11 nays. Those who voted against it were Cardiff reeve Mack Peters and

When the by-law was put to a vote in the afternoon session, it carried, 20 votes to nine, with Glamorgan's Bob McCausland changing his earlier nay to a yea vote.

Budget harmful to tourism obtaining forms and mailing them will discourage many visitors from taking advantage of the program. He compared the new measure to the sales tax rebate offer which he said few visitors are aware of despite his efforts to increase its publicity. Eakins said a rebate program will send money out of the province, while a reduction in taxes would result in an increase in the amount of money tourists have to spend while they are in the province. As an alternative, Eakins recommended that "the accommodation tax be eliminated across the board."

Tenders awarded

Haliburton County's Road Committee has awarded several tenders this month for the operations of the County Roads Department.

The Prime and Surface Treatment contract for various locations within the County was awarded to Miller Paving Limited in the amount of $235,831. A contract for rock drilling was divided between J.A.C. Kernohan Construction for $52,900 and R.M. Hawley Limited for $30,000.

The importance of advertising as a way to increase the number of people vacationing in Ontario was also referred to by Eakins, however, he said that in order to advertise the province must have something to sell.

"To encourage people to come over, things must be made to look attractive," he said, and added, "you're not going to stop people from travelling to other countries."

In addition to advertising the features of vacationing in Ontario, Eakins said an effort should be made to encourage the people of the province to be more hospitable to visitors, even if they are not directly connected to the tourist trade. He criticized those who are unwilling to help tourists and referred specifically to the government subsidized Toronto Transit Commission which offers a low rate of exchange on American currency.

"Tourism, once Ontario's second largest industry, has slipped to third place," said Eakins. Although he said he has not had a great deal of response from those in the tourism industry concerning the new budget, he said there was generally a "wait and see attitude" concerning the success of the coming summer tourist season.

Don Wright directs the Senior Elementary School Band during their performance last weekend at the Spring Fling. The bank kicked off the entertainment at the bandshell which gave local residents and cottagers at Head Lake Park a chance to hear and see some of Haliburton's talent.

Society finds county support, gets $1000

The newly formed Haliburton County Historical Society has received a $1000 operating grant from Haliburton County council, and will be considered for further funding once a needs study has been completed by the society.

Council came to the decision following a presentation from society president Frank Wallace and director Roy Windover. Wallace said the group's most critical task is to select a site on which to locate the museum, which is currently housed in wooden buildings adjacent to Kamp Kandalore in Stanhope Township. Municipalities and members of the public have been asked to suggest the best possible site, based on criteria which include inexpensive land, central access, and maximum benefit for county residents.

Wallace said a three sided base of support for the museum is needed. Local politicians and individuals must back the project, canoeing must be promoted more actively, and the museum collection itself also must become better known, he said.

Wallace said the society directors will meet with museum owner Kirk Wipper and his board of management to discuss acquisition of the Kanawa collection.

"All signs appear to be favourable," Wallace told county councillors.

Society director Roy Windover said the group would do its best to co operate with county council at all

Mill supported

Haliburton County council has given moral support to a proposed restoration of the Austin sawmill in Kinmount. At a meeting last Wednesday, county councillors voted in favour of a resolution supporting the concept of making the mill a focal point for tourism in the Kinmount area.

Sommerville Township is spearheading the drive to bring the old water powered mill back into working condition. To date Sommerville has obtained resolutions of moral support from a number of councils in the area, and hopes eventually to seek grant support for the restoration project.

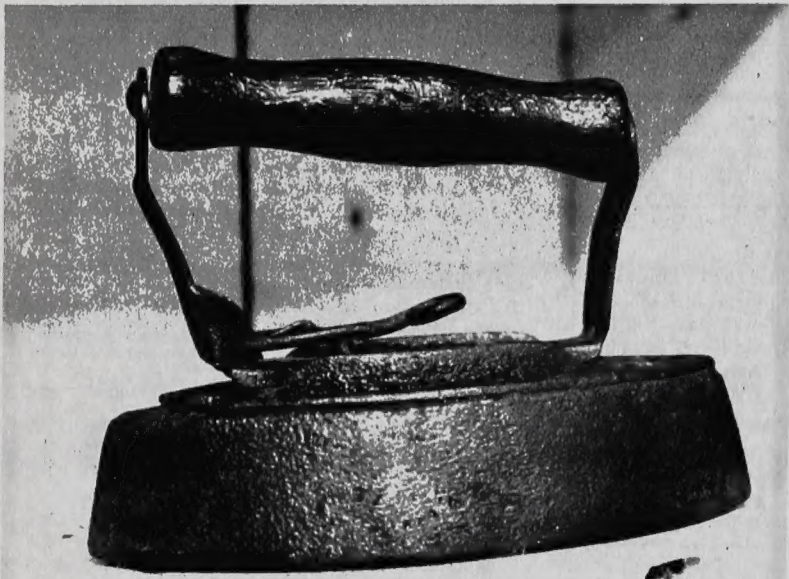

Planning begins for new bridge

Preliminary engineering drawings for a new bridge in Ingoldsby will be prepared by Totten Sims Hubicki of Bracebridge. County engineer Bill Obee said the preliminary design will include widening of abutments to carry a two lane bridge deck, as well as plans for the deck itself. The firm also will provide the county's roads committee with an estimated cost of a new structure.

Once a cost estimate has been obtained, the committee will decide whether or not to proceed with the bridge. Final engineering drawings will be prepared by the Bracebridge firm.

Construction of the new bridge will start in September if design and costs meet county criteria.

New displays have settlement theme

Pioneer iron one of scores of items on display at museum

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

On May 18, Haliburton Highlands Museum opened its doors for another season with a new director and a special theme.

Douglas McNichol, the recently appointed director of the museum, anticipates that museum attendance will increase this summer over last year due to the new displays that he and his associates have designed.

"Everything is new," said McNichol, adding that 90 percent of the artifacts now on display at the museum have not been shown before.

The theme of this year's exhibition is the various tasks executed by men and women during the initial period of settlement in Haliburton. McNichol describes this as falling between 1860 and 1875. Included in the displays are various household utensils such as an apple peeler, a hand loom, a butter churn and a collection of irons and foot warmers. A number of farming and trapping implements are also on display to indicate the type of labour the men of Haliburton were engaged in at this time.

Original transit

In addition to this collection of tools which depicts the manner in which Haliburton's earliest residents went about their day to day chores, the exhibit features the original tripod and transit used to survey the area for the English Land Company, the original holders of the title to the Haliburton area. McNichol calls this instrument his pride and joy. "It's really a part of Haliburton's history," he said.

Accompanying the displays is a recorded audio presentation which is designed to introduce visitors to the museum and to the region of Haliburton in general. A map of the county and one of Ontario with Haliburton's location marked are also placed at the beginning of the exhibit as a way of orienting those who are unfamiliar with the area. McNichol also stated that during the months of July and August, local high school students will be hired to act as guides. Special demonstrations of pioneer skills will also take place during these months.

Unique building

The Haliburton Museum, built in 1977, is located in Glebe Park. McNichol said that the museum is unique in that unlike most local museums, the building which houses the Haliburton collection was designed specifically as a museum. The municipality is the principle source of funding for the museum, although grants are obtained from the provincial government. This year money was also received from the Ontario Bicentennial Committee.

The museum will remain open until Thanksgiving. During the fall months, McNichol hopes to conduct classes in conservation, registration and exhibition interpretation in the classroom facilities located in the building. McNichol said these courses will be of interest to those with their own antiques or small private collections who want to learn more about preserving and storing their artifacts as well as the most effective manner in which to display them in their home.

Fairer

Haliburton County council has at last seen fit to redress a situation which has been growing ever more significant - the disparity between voting power and apportionment. Since the late 1950's, a number of smaller municipalities in Haliburton County have been allowed to have two voting members at the council table, a reeve and a deputy reeve. In subsequent years, some municipalities have shown steady growth, while in others, the population and number of seasonal residences has changed relatively little. As a result some municipalities have had to bear an increasing proportion of the tax burden imposed by the county budget, while their ability to influence decisions through the casting of votes at the council table has not kept pace.

A glance at figures presented to council by management committee chairman Murray Fearrey shows the extent of the disparity. Dysart et al, which this year paid almost 38 percent of the county's budget, has only 10 percent of the voting power in regular votes and 14 percent in recorded votes. Snowdon, with only three and a half percent of the total apportionment, has 10 percent of the voting power on ordinary matters, and seven percent, or twice as much as it ought reasonably to have, on recorded votes. Bicroft, with a mere 1.14 percent of the county budget to pay, has five percent of the voting power through its one representative, and three percent on recorded votes.

Clearly these disparities were unfair to ratepayers. As the Dysart reeve pointed out in his presentation, shareholders in a company expect that their voting power will reflect their percentage of ownership. There is no reason why the same thing should not be true of municipal representatives at county council.

In most issues that come before county council, voting weight is not particularly important. Much of the business of county council is rubber stamping of by-laws passed by municipalities, and approving decisions made by council committees. But there are times when it is absolutely crucial that the majority of ratepayers have, through their representatives, the majority of the vote. Under the old system, the smaller municipalities, many of whose representatives hate to spend a single tax dollar if they can avoid it, no matter how important the expenditure may be to the long term good of the county, could block important ideas and programs. When the new regulations take effect after the November 1985 municipal election, the power of the smaller municipalities will be reduced. Despite the protestations of some county council members, the majority had the good sense to recognize the fairness of that change.

Provincial treasurer Larry Grossman continues to demonstrate his party's profound indifference to common sense when it comes to influencing Ontario's economy, particularly where tourism is concerned. As local MPP John Eakins pointed out in a communique this week, accommodation and meals in Ontario are among the most expensive in Canada (and in the world for that matter). Virtually everything is taxed now, as the government's greed grows ever more insatiable. Millions are spent on advertising the province as a tourism destination, but those millions are raised by taxing every cup of coffee, every slice of toast that is eaten outside the home. If Grossman and his fellow manipulators really want Ontario's economy to grow, they should cut taxes, reduce their profligate spending, get their noses out of the economy and let consumers spend their extra dollars as they see fit.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

My family and I wish to thank the Fire Chief and his men for coming so quickly to our property on Soyers Lake, in response to our neighbour, Ben Cameron's phone call. We understand that members of the Department of Natural Resources were also at the scene of the fire.

We extend our heartfelt thanks to all the people who helped to save our sleeping cabin, dock, boat, tool shed, etc. and especially the trees.

The Ultimate Survivalist

It's been said that the real armageddon, that will occur long after humanity has baked itself in a nuclear oven, will involve a titanic battle between cockroaches and gonorrhea. That's about as grim a view of life (or death) on earth as I've ever heard. And it may be premature to predict that evolution will discard human intelligence in this way. But the scenario hardly overdraws one fact: the awesome survival skills of the humble roach.

Despite its venerable age, the cockroach enjoys little more than our grudging respect. There are, at base, good reasons for this. Roaches do expose us to salmonella, typhoid fever and other nasty disorders. And it's true that they thrive in places we'd rather not live in. At the same time, like all "bad" animals, insects and plants, they're victimized to a degree by misconceptions. I'll grant you there's every reason to prefer the company of the family dog, or to be inspired by the beauty of a butterfly. But the fact is that roaches, at least the oriental, German and American strains that followed us indoors, are proliferating because of our habits.

In contrast to the common housefly, roaches on their own are clean, preening themselves they way cats do. So they become a health hazard largely by circulating our own filth. They don't need much of it to get by either, being able to survive on things like grease and wallpaper paste. Reproduction is equally secure. The female needs only one fertilization to produce egg capsules of 20 to 40 offspring and she can produce as many as seven capsules in a lifetime.

Of course, the real issue that remains for most people, is how to get rid of the little critters. There's a lot you can do before engaging in all-out chemical warfare. Spring cleaning, and regular follow-up is one step. According to Janet Avery, a Toronto Public Health official and authority on the subject, roaches, are also repulsed by such common substances as crushed garlic or bay-leaves. More adventurous people have resorted to lizards. Other predators such as nematodes, as well as hormones which cause heart failure, are being used experimentally by scientists. Construction techniques including the spraying of diatomaceous earth in nooks and crannies of buildings, hold greater promise in the near future according to Ms. Avery.

The fact remains that whatever weapons develop, peaceful co-existence is as close as many of us urban dwellers will ever get to winning the war with roaches. And unless they get overcrowded, roaches will keep their distance, using their sensitive antennae to smell our approach.

The Victoria Holiday weekend is now history and one thing that we had going for us this year was great weather conditions with warm and summer like weather with clear skies and with some cloudy periods on Sunday. I have been in contact with many business people in the area and practically everyone of them told me that business this Victoria Day weekend was down considerably from last year at this time. Others told me that on Saturday business was spotty. There would be a rush for awhile and then quiet periods. Several business people are wondering just why business wasn't ahead of last year. The weather was nice and you have to admit that the price of gas in the Highlands was very low and easy on the pocketbook.

Debbie Bates, typesetter and office assistant here at the Echo, is $5,000 richer after having won this amount in the Wintario draw held last Thursday. She will be going to Toronto on Friday to collect her winnings.

The Sky Slider opened on Saturday in a blaze of glory and business was quite brisk all during the weekend. Don't forget that Skyline Rides are offering for a limited time only season passes for $24.99.

The citizens of Haliburton and area have waited a long time for a veterinary service to come to town but that time has finally arrived and Laurie Brown D.V.M. is announcing the opening of the Haliburton Veterinary Services on Highway 121, one mile west of the village, behind the Brewers Retail Store. There's an Open House this Friday, May 25 from 1 to 4 p.m. and on Saturday, May 26 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

The men of the Zion United Church at Carnarvon are becoming famous Ontario wide for their ability to change over from their everyday work into chefs capable of cooking up a meal like only mother could do. On Wednesday night last the men were back in the kitchen once again cooking up spaghetti for two sold out sittings at 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. The supper was organized by Carl Doey, who organized the group of men to help cook the meal, serve it and clean up after.

The Christian Education building proved to be a wonderful setting for the supper with fresh flowers on the tables and Harold Brodhagen of Haliburton on the violin playing some beautiful background music. Everyone seemed to enjoy the all-you-could-eat meal and the men are planning on having more of this type of supper as they seem to really enjoy preparing the food for these special events. Proceeds from the evening went toward the work of the church.

The Rotary Club of Haliburton are to be congratulated on the successful Easter Seal campaign that has just been completed. The local Easter Seal campaign received $3,280, which was $480 over the objective. Kim Emmerson and his hard working committee are to be congratulated for the success in raising this money to carry on the good work in this area.

Bishop Desmond Hunt will be in Haliburton on Sunday, June 10 which is Pentecost Sunday. He will be the guest speaker at the second annual "Praise for Pentecost" community service to be held at the high school.

Friends of Fred Clements were saddened this week when they learned that he died in Toronto on Sunday, May 13. Fred, along with his wife Norma, spent several years in Haliburton where they made a host of friends. During his stay in Haliburton he became very active in the community and he was the kind of man who would be all too willing to help out whenever he was called on to do so. Fred was a top notch musician and when he wasn't playing the piano he was busy giving lessons and tuning pianos. He was a regular attendee at St. George's Anglican Church and took a very active role in the activities of the church with his first love being the choir. Fred was a former member of the Rotary Club of Haliburton and played the piano for the weekly sing songs. He played piano with the Golden Slipper Dance Band for years and played trombone for the Haliburton Legion Brass Band when they were taking part in local area parades. The late Fred Clements was a man who enjoyed life to the fullest and he had a great sense of humour. Fred is gone but he will be sadly missed by all those who knew him.

A member of the Haliburton Horticultural Society told me the other day that they would like to put out an apology to their members and the public at large for the misunderstanding about the lecture on "Landscaping for the Home Owner" which was held at the Information Centre on May 17. The Assistant Director of the Royal Botanical Gardens had an excellent presentation of slides for the 15 people who did attend. Sir Sandford Fleming College arranged for the speaker and neither the Horticultural Society or the college advertised the program, apparently each having left it to the other. The Horticultural Society will be starting their plantings shortly, and volunteer assistants, plus more memberships are welcome and needed.

The Saturday night, May 24, the Rotary Club of Haliburton will be celebrating their 40th anniversary at Wig-A-Mog Inn.

Pic of the Past

Our Pic of the Past this week, taken many years ago, shows Mrs. Schofield at the piano and A.G. Schofield on the banjo. Mr. Schofield was born in England in 1867 and after the turn of the century came to Canada. He was with the Salvation Army in Oshawa where he met and married Margaret Thompson. They then moved to Wilberforce where they built a home and he worked in the graphite mine. In the war of 1914-18 he joined the army and returned to England as a Sergeant in the Postal Corps. Returning to Wilberforce after the war he became Children's Aid Inspector for Haliburton County. Mr. and Mrs. Schofield, realizing the serious handicap when an emergency arose, decided to do something about the problem. They made several appeals to the Canadian Red Cross Society and this resulted in the first Red Cross Outpost Hospital in Ontario. The Schofields moved to Haliburton and assisted in organizing a Red Cross Branch in Haliburton with W.R. Curry in 1929. Many other people became involved and through their efforts a Red Cross Outpost Hospital was opened in Haliburton in 1936 by Mrs. William Newman, wife of the then Provincial member of Parliament.

The Agnes Jamieson Gallery will be featuring the art of Linda Lapeer and Gordon Law from May 31 to June 25. For a truly delightful Folk Art Exhibition, Linda is an original. Her small and lovingly detailed paintings express the magic she finds in nature and ordinary life. Gordon Law has combined his love of poetry and mythology with his carvings, and the result is a most interesting exhibition. Gallery hours are 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

June 1 to 23, the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton village will be featuring "From Rags to Riches" - a show which comes to us from the Joseph Schneider House in Kitchener. Crafts people working with fibres, folk art, antique collectors and those interested in our heritage will enjoy this collection of primitive floor coverings. Also you will be able to see "what's new" from the graduate students of Sheridan College, one of the foremost schools of crafts and design. There is also a selection of weaving, ceramics, woodworking, glass and jewellery at the Gallery. Gallery hours are 11:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Tuesday to Saturday.

Bicentennial Youth and Sport Fitness Festival - The Township of Glamorgan and the Ontario Ministry of Tourism and Recreation are inviting boys and girls 9 - 11 as of July 1, 1984 to participate in the Bicentennial Youth and Sports Fitness Festival the week of July 16 to 20. This festival will be held at the Glamorgan Community Centre.

The week long festival will offer young people a unique and interesting summer fun experience at no cost. The program will run five days, 10 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. each day.

Boys and girls participating in the festival will receive instruction in the six basic skills which can be applied to any sport: running, jumping, kicking, throwing, catching and striking. As the week progresses individual improvement in these skills will be measured through a series of activities which will include an obstacle course and a strengthathon that will challenge the participants' fitness level and movement ability.

The festival will have six categories, one each for boys and girls age 9, 10 and 11. Awards will be presented to everyone who successfully completes the program. In addition a boy and girl in each category will be named to the Glamorgan Team which will participate in the next level round. The provincial event of the Festival will be held at Centennial Park in Etobicoke August 25-26, 1984.

In order to accommodate all age groups the Fitness Festival will accept registrations from children age 6 to 16 with the understanding that only the 9, 10, and 11 year olds move on to the area and provincial festivals. All children participating in the festival will receive an award. If you are interested in registering your child please contact Jane Franklin at the Glamorgan Municipal office (705) 447-2410.

On May 16, regulations to reduce the amount of lead in gasoline became law. These reductions will be put in place by January 1, 1987. The lead content will be cut to approximately one-third of the current allowable level.

This measure is designed to reduce automobile lead emission by approximately 60% from 1982 levels. The Minister of Environment claims that the decision to reduce the lead content will in no way inflict any hardship on owners of cars and trucks designed to run on leaded gasoline. He stated that the new lead level that will come into effect in 1987 will meet the manufacturer's specifications for all vehicles and gasoline powered machines available in Canada.

I think that reducing the lead levels rather than eliminating leaded gas completely is a more appropriate course of action. Whether our vehicles designed for use with leaded gas will indeed not be affected by the reduction remains to be seen. One unfortunate repercussion will be additional refining costs for production at the new level. This will undoubtedly result in added cost to the consumer. I question whether this will only be 15 cents per week, as the Minister suggests. Gasoline prices have had a habit of rising much more rapidly than this government has predicted. One only need look at their promise in the last election to keep gasoline increases below 18 cents per gallon.

Earlier this year, the Government announced its intentions to tax all Workers' Compensation benefits. After many objections to this proposal, the Government has backed down. Revenue Canada has now promised to amend their

By now you will be aware of the 1984 budget of Treasurer Larry Grossman. Being a pre-election budget, it was true to form with no tax increases. At least none was visible to the uninitiated. Except for a 4.9% OHIP increase - $1.40 per month, it would appear that everything is for free.

What the Treasurer failed to mention was the whopping 17.2% increase in public debt interest, which amounts to $8.1 million a day - without paying a cent off the debt. The debt is the third largest expenditure following health and education. The total spending will rise 7.4% or $1.95 billion to $26.8 billion. Some restraint.

Hidden away in the budget is a $44 million hike to Ontario Hydro for water property, whatever that means. So Hydro will add this to your Hydro bill and it gets Mr. Grossman off the hook from appearing to raise taxes. Best to get someone else to be the fall guy.

It must be sadly disappointing to our tourist industry. Tourism Ontario made an excellent pre-budget submission to the Treasurer, but this great industry was hardly recognized. The tax on accommodation will be eliminated to the end of the year for out of province visitors. This will help a little, but the tax should have been removed for everyone, to encourage Ontario citizens to travel in their own province.

This is one of Ontario's biggest industries and I feel they were forgotten in the budget.

Our tourism deficit is at an all time high, some $730 million, and Statistics Canada figures show that American visitors to Canada have reduced dramatically since 1981. It's no wonder, because we tax them to death. The high tax on our gasoline, no exemption on food tax, and unacceptable taxes on alcohol, are keeping many people away. In spite of this, Treasurer Grossman has reduced the Tourism and Recreation budget by 9.2%. The Culture budget is also reduced and, amazingly, so is the budget for the Ministry of the Environment.

A $300 million cheque from the Federal Government has made it possible to reduce the deficit.

I thought Mr. Grossman had a lot of gall to lecture municipal councils and school boards, saying that the payments that his government has made to them have been generous and that they should be able to live with the modest increases, "provided they take as firm a stance as this government." Our best value is still at the municipal level and I respect the job they do with such a limited budget. It's too bad that Larry Grossman failed in his bid a few years back to get elected to city council. He would better understand what they are trying to do.

lection of an outstanding Business Improvement levy on property No. 33-274 in the amount of $53.15.

The account to Lindsay Electric Wholesale in the amount of $475.50 was approved for payment.

Council agreed to refund $800 or 50% of the administration fee in T.R. files 81-16 to 81-23.

Council requested Woods Gordon to prepare a supplementary document to the "review of the sewage facilities" recommending to the M.O.E. that approval be given to erase the deficit and the system be refinanced in favour of the township with respect to ownership.

Councillor Burk had a report prepared by B. Sisson on behalf of the Parks Committee with respect to development of a wildlife park consisting of a waterfowl section, petting zoo and children's spray pool. Completion of the proposal will be dependent upon the availability of funds and grants.

Council approved Doug Colborne's severance application No. H39/84 pursuant to policy No. 6.

Council authorized an expenditure of up to $1,350 to purchase and install one streetlight at the intersection of Prince Street and Highway No. 35.

Council authorized G. Poirier to attend a Municipal Housing Inspection seminar in Toronto on June 3 to June 8, 1984 pursuant to policy No. 4.

The following accounts were approved for payment: General, $63,052.98; Water, $2,509.08; and Sewer, $14,120.52.

Council accepted the tender of Fowler Construction Company Limited to supply and complete hot mix paving and miscellaneous works for the amount of $32,473.00 subject to the approval of MTC with respect to supplementary funding.

Brian Sisson and Godfrey Saunders were present. Council formed a Committee of the Whole.

In regular session, council decided that in the matter of the Kanawa International Collection, the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden submit a proposal to the Haliburton County Historical Society, and that the proposal detail an offer of land use, grounds maintenance, access to adjacent parklands, municipal water and waste treatment services, and other items for consideration by the Society's Board of Directors. The Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden said it will fully support the county-site selection of the Society and its subsequent efforts to retain the Kanawa International Collection in Haliburton County.

The clerk was authorized to contact Bishop and Wilson regarding the survey across property as proposed by Wilfred Ackerblade and advise that the township is prepared to pay 80% of the costs involved. Bishop and Wilson will be responsible to contact Wilfred Ackerblade for collection of the remaining 20%. Also the municipality will be notified as to when survey will commence and the Road Superintendent was authorized to represent the municipality's interest in this matter.

Council considered a resolution to donate $100 to the First Minden Scouting Group.

The amount referred to in the resolution was amended to read $25 and the Scouting Group will be advised to contact the local service clubs for further assistance and if their request is unsuccessful with the service clubs that the Scouting Group contact Councillor Stevens for a subsequent report back to council. A Nay vote was cast by Dave Stevens.

By-law 84-13, a by-law to close, stop up and convey a portion of the original allowance for road between Concessions 12 and 13, across Lot 15 in the Township of Minden, was passed.

By-law 84-14, a by-law to authorize payment to be made to certain members of the Planning Advisory Committee, was considered. A vote was deferred.

Trent Severn News

The average Haliburton Lakes storage percentage reached 93.2% on May 14. By May 17 a small decline (the first this spring) occurred so that the amount was 92.9%. This small decline was generally the result of releasing water from some lakes which had exceeded 100% earlier. Some moderate rains in Haliburton would really help to top up the reservoir lakes.

The Kawartha Lakes which were overfilled to some extent last week on May 11, were pushed even further by the rain that day and throughout this week large flows have been discharged down the Otonabee to return them to lower levels. Flow reductions on Thursday and Friday (May 17, 18) have resulted in river section currents that are still tricky, but not hazardous to navigate. The canal opening is occurring today with precautions issued to warn boaters about the swift currents especially near water control dams.

If the forecasted rain produces modest inflows the situation should not change much. Heavy rains especially south of Haliburton could result in flows too high, and navigation might have to be suspended. Dry weather could be a help for a week or so in the south of the Trent Watershed.

Northern Lights

By VIRGINIA MUENZEL

Ahhh, Spring...

The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la, and I finally got to see them. It's downright awful the way everyday chores keep us from enjoying life's pleasures. But after numerous delays on account of rain, wind, and falling trees, not to mention house cleaning, etc., my neighbour and I got our act together, found some boots, and took off.

It's like going through Alice's looking glass. You enter a whole new space. A narrow corridor of infinite beauty. Wildflowers were everywhere. The trillium and the violets we knew. But we had no book to identify all the other delicate blooms. We were curious to note that all the trilliums in this bush were red. And there were hundreds of them. Not a single white. And we knew there were white other years. We passed patches of pungent leeks, which I promised, but haven't gone back for. We climbed over many trees that had fallen in the wind storm weeks before. The walk took us quite a while, as we stopped to look at every new plant. The day seemed much nicer afterwards. I think we took our nature walk just in time.

The last few days, like anyone who has dared to venture out, I find myself doing an in depth, intense, in agony, and totally involuntary study of the dreaded blackfly.

One of my son's buddies from the states was up to visit recently, and we were reminiscing about one year when the flies were particularly fierce. Eddie's buddy was not favourably impressed. The two boys had been trying to fix a lawn mower while under attack. All Jim could talk about was having to wear a "teepee" on his head. Ed and I were similarly attired over the weekend while trying to get the potatoes planted.

Speaking of potatoes, while planting my early spuds, I had one of my better brainstormers. My other son had caught some suckers one night. Ed and I hate bony fish, so I decided to plant them with the spuds. After all, didn't the Indians do it with corn? But my neighbour, bless his heart, couldn't let that pass. I think the remark was passed about my trying to raise fish and chips. The things I have to put up with.

Anyway, the first big weekend is over, and we all survived. Yard sale, bugs, and all. The only real blight on my view was the garbage someone tossed out their car window on their way home.

Ahhh, spring.

Did you know?

Did you know...that the Addiction Research Foundation has introduced an easier way for you to get answers to your questions about alcohol and other drugs?

This new system is called Dial-a-Fact which is a series of factual, scientific telephone messages concerning alcohol and drug topics. They are four to six minutes long, can be listened to in the privacy of your own home or office and as often as you wish.

Simply call the toll-free number, 1-800-387-2916 and ask to hear any of the audiotapes listed in the folder by code number. This folder can be obtained at our office and is free of charge. However, to cover some of the cost of production and circulation they require sponsors, whereby a business may receive 2000 copies for $100. There is a space on the back of the Dial-a-Fact folder to put your business stamp or logo. By sponsoring these brochures, promotion and advertising of both your business and the Addiction Research Foundation can be done, not to mention the assistance in helping other people find solutions to alcohol and drug related problems.

In addition to this folder, your County Information Centre has a wide variety of pamphlets consisting of reliable literature designed for the general public relating to this and much more, including social, health, governmental and environmental subjects. Our office is open Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and we are located in the Drag River Municipal Building (across from Emmerson Lumber).

A stamp drawing contest was one of the activities held to celebrate the 125 years of postal service in Kinmount. Winners Jane Austin, Julie Austin, Christina Windrum and Andrew Crego received their awards from Postmaster Jane Rolfe.

Senior League

By BERT HARRISON

Dear readers, it has been a busy week here at Hyland Crest. Sunday, May 13 being Mother's Day, we had some special guests. Mary Oliver's son Raymond came, and I'm sure there were some others. Winnie Johnston's son Bill was here to visit his dear mother. Mrs. Stutt's daughter, Ruth came, which was really good. Some had children who called on Millie Wood. But of all the families that came to call, Della Curry was the winner. Her son and grandson came, took her to their cottage at Haliburton. She even cooked the dinner.

Lola Prentice and Annie Cox had great great granddaughters christened in the United Church on Mother's Day. Our sympathy to family and friends go out today for Ivan Harrison who recently passed away.

Edith Welch has been brought back to Minden Hospital at last, still all bound up in a plaster cast. She'll be there for at least six weeks. Her sister Carrie walked down to see her, fell, cut her head and cheeks.

Now I was all alone on this special day you see. Our daughter came on her way to church. Then our son Roger came and had lunch with me.

In the chapel service Sunday night, we had no one with music to play. We had a nice service anyway. In Matthew Chapter 15 a woman came to Jesus and said, "Please help my daughter, who is mixed with the devil." When Jesus saw the faith the woman had, the daughter was made holy that very same hour. Rev. Burgess always makes his messages so interesting. In this sacred hour, he told how Jesus made the daughter holy, for he had the power.

Doris showed interesting movies Monday night, to all who came by. Three about 60° North, Blue Birds of Happiness and Fly Geese Fly.

Tuesday morning Rev. Westhaver of Minden United Church conducted a very interesting service in the chapel, this May day. He told the life story of John Wesley. Fred Ballard came with music to play.

Tuesday afternoon down in the auditorium, where we have a lot of fun playing the quiz game, the A team won.

Tuesday night it was the Watsons and Smiths turn, with music to play. Al came down with the flu and had to stay away. Fred Ballard came and took Al's place instead. We can always count on Fred.

Arnie Wright is on a week's holiday; we really miss Arnie when she is away. It was nice to see Linda English, who dropped in for a few minutes today. She said she had to come to shop, and just couldn't stay away.

The ladies of the Haliburton Pentecostal Lighthouse brought a tasty lunch this Thursday afternoon. Along with Pastor Ward Taylor, his wife Christine and darling baby boy, played and sang so lovely, bringing us much joy.

The bingo callers here this night, were Don and Evan Nye and Brian Hamilton. We thank you for coming. It was a job well done. Five bingo's were won by Millie Wood.

We have a Katimavik group here. Doris took us and them for a bus ride to Hawk Lake to see the log chute. I had a nice young lady beside me, who was really cute. We hope they will like it here, they have a three month stay. We hope to see more of them before

Home Support News

By MARIE WALLACE

Many of you already know that I will be retiring as Co-ordinator for Haliburton County Home Support Services as of June 15. In April 1980, when this organization was formed, I was hired to guide and encourage the volunteers to support our senior and disabled people throughout the county. It was a new venture for all of us, but one which we knew was needed. I have found my work very rewarding and it thrills me when I look back and see how many times you as volunteers succeeded in making life worthwhile for someone who became lonely, or depressed and just needed a friend, a smile, an encouraging word, or a favour.

I leave knowing that all the programs - meals on wheels, transportation, wheels to meals, home help, friendly visiting, and fone-a-friend, will continue. They will continue because of 400 caring volunteers, an excellent directorate representing each community, a capable and sweet secretary Karen Dewey, and a newly-hired co-ordinator, Donna Bailey.

Donna is a very caring, well-organized and energetic person who will appreciate your input into this organization. New volunteers are always welcome and if you would like to help others in any of the above-mentioned services, please call Donna at 457-2941; she will be happy to hear from you. If you could benefit from any service, please call - we're here to help you.

I wish to thank each one of you who made Friday such a special day in my life - for your attendance at the beautiful luncheon and for the lovely tributes which were given to me. I was very touched by your expressions and well wishes - thank you again.

CHACE place is busy with series of events

By CAROLINE BISHOP

CHACE has been a busy place this month, with many activities for parents and children. On April 3, Rozann Hynard provided a large display of her family's collection of children's books, and led a discussion on children's literature.

Many people enjoyed a successful Easter party on April 19. The Easter Bunny provided many interesting moments, including an Easter egg hunt. A pot luck lunch topped off the day.

The "Colours Consultants" have come twice to CHACE, and on each occasion 12 people have "had their colours done". The workshop is so popular that we have a return engagement in June, now fully booked, with the possibility of another if there is still more interest. With a contribution to CHACE of $10 per person, this represents a substantial fund-raising activity, as well as a useful service.

You may have noticed a new face at CHACE: Patty Chislett is with us until Mid-June on an eight week job training programme.

Our staff have been attending workshops this month: Faye Maddock, Mary Macdonald, Rozann Hynard, and director Rosie Kenney participated in "How to Talk so Kids will Listen, and Listen so Kids will Talk" presented by Elaine Mazlish and Adele Faber, authors of the book of the same name. Those of us

Agricultural Report

Cattle on Pasture Farm

Approximately 1025 yearlings have been turned out to graze at the Victoria County Community Pasture near Hartley.

The livestock include steers, heifers from negative status herds and heifers from Brucellosis Free Listed herds.

All animals are in the 350 lb. to 750 lb. weight range. Animals are implanted to increase growth rate at the request of the owner. Each animal received a fly control tag.

The Victoria County Community Pasture Committee is looking forward to another successful grazing season.

The pasture farm is divided into nine ranches or separate grazing areas.

Each ranch is fertilized on a regular basis. As a result, the Committee has been able to accept more cattle last year and again for the 1984 grazing season.

Cattle will be removed from pasture in October with the early roundup ranch coming off before the fall feeder sales.

1984 Provincial 4-H Leadership Week

A dirty cooling system can make your engine run hot

When dirt, rust and sludge deposits clog the tiny passages in your heater core, you're in for a long, uncomfortable winter behind the wheel.

That's because these blockages prevent your cooling system from circulating hot coolant from the engine through your heater to warm the inside of your car.

Norland celebrates Bicentennial

By KELLY GRAHAM

Last Saturday, May 12, the citizens of Norland gathered in Ward Park for a Bicentennial celebration. The picnic commenced at one with an opening speech by our local Member of Parliament, Bill Scott. Then Scott and local reeve David Graham sawed off the first log of the day to begin the log sawing competition. Next the frog-jumping contest was kicked off leaving Blayne Brown with a first place ribbon. A variety of wild and crazy races followed. Here are those results: the three-legged race - Dawn Gostlin and Susan Adams (under ten); Kelly Graham and Kamia Harrison (10-16); Tracey Shorter and Margaret Francis (adult). The wheelbarrow races - Lorne Greer and David Lee (under 10); Jason Cook and Lee Potter (10-16).

Unfortunately the name of the adult winner was not available.

Then, for the braver souls, it was on to egg racing and water balloon throwing. Here are those lucky winners: egg racing - Lorne Greer and David Lee (under 14); Kathy Robb and Beth Potter (14 and up); water balloon throwing - Paula Janke and Stephanie Klett (under 14); Tracy Davis and Lisa Kay (over 14).

Throughout the day free soup, juice and hot dogs were distributed and some local singing talent was on hand for our listening pleasure. The bolder townspeople tried their hand at telling tall tales while others entered the baking contest.

Another highlight was the baseball game between the Ladies Auxiliary and the local council. The game ended in a rather questionable tie.

To add an old-fashioned touch to the afternoon many people donned pioneer costumes and free wagon rides were given. In mid-afternoon the public school poster contest was judged. The winners were: John Adams (grade one); Nancy Landry (grade two); Janice Batty (grade three); Kelly Vanier (grade four); Tammy Madill (grade five); Kevin Winterburn (grade six); Jane Harrison (grade seven); Colleen Janke (grade eight). Each of the posters featured a design dealing with Ontario's Bicentennial.

The picnic ended at approximately five o'clock and thanks to the hard work and effort of many people it was a huge success - and a lot of fun. It is hoped that the local council will support another such picnic next year.

times. He emphasized that once a site has been selected, local municipalities will have to back the decision, since the museum "can only go in one place".

Windover then presented a proposed resolution which called on the county to lend moral support to the society's efforts, and to agree to provide financial backing for ongoing operating costs of the proposed museum.

While councillors clearly were in favour of the society's intentions, they were more cautious about making a financial commitment until anticipated costs were spelled out.

After a brief discussion of the issue in open session, council voted to form a committee-of-the-whole to consider the matter in camera. When the regular session resumed a half hour later, council voted to lend moral support to the society's efforts, to provide an initial grant of $1000 for incidental expenses, and to consider further funding once the society completes a financial needs study.

The society will hold an open meeting next Thursday, May 31 to consider proposed sites for a new museum.

THE HALIBURTON COUNTY ECHO AND MINDEN RECORDER

Kinmount Korner

By MILLIE MOSS

Well folks, the one hundred and twenty-fifth birthday of our Kinmount Postal Service has come and gone. The girls worked very hard to make May 18 an enjoyable day for all and, I think, more than succeeded. For a week or longer there were albums of old time Kinmount, old newspaper clippings, pictures, postcards, you name it, all generously loaned by local people for display. Balloons hung from the P.O. ceiling and the outside rails in a colourful display, posters which the school children had drawn for the event were hung carefully and the winners of the medallions were: Junior Division: first prize went to Andrew Crego and second to Christina Windrum. Senior Division: first prize to Jane Austin and second to Julie Austin. There were balloons, pencils, binders, colouring books and a number of paper items handed out to the children and anyone else who wanted them. Cupcakes and cookies were served both inside the Post Office and right out on the street. A number of folks were seen in old time costume and of course anyone connected with the Post Office was all dressed up. Bill Scott, M.P., complete in his grey top hat and tails, John Eakins, M.P.P., Maurice Watson, Reeve of Somerville Township, Harry Platt, former councillor of Galway/Cavendish Township were guest speakers. Guy Scott read a fascinating poem written by our neighbour, Ken Hyams. The poem commemorated the bygone days, made note of past postmasters and even mentioned our new red maple tree which had been planted especially for this event. Jane Rolfe, our present Post Mistress and her assistant Post Mistress Barb Fountain made up the rest of the guest speakers on the front steps of the Post Office. Hostesses were Karen McBride, Ida Young and Millie Moss. There were quite a number of cameras in view so let's hope there were some good pictures taken to show off in the two hundred and fiftieth birthday of the Kinmount Post Office. I don't think too many of us will be around to enjoy that one.

In passing I must also mention the lovely cake decorated with 125 on one corner and 200 on another. That covered birthdays for both our Post Office and good old Ontario.

Nancy, John, Christopher and Mark Goodwin of West Toronto were guests of Joan and Ken Hyams during the weekend. They are currently camping in this area.

We had Bonnie Walker and Charlie Ryan for the weekend and enjoyed seeing lots of people during the course of a yard sale.

Weren't those blackflies ferocious on the weekend? Don't forget the Meals on Wheels delivered to your home, Monday, Wednesday, and Fridays. Then there's the Wheels to Meals and the second one is taking place as I write this on Tuesday, May 22. The entire program is doing very well. Give Ken Hyams a call at 488-2032 for any further information you may require.

Robert Loughheed of Crystal Lake who was rushed to Minden Red Cross hospital a week ago with a heart attack is now back at his home and coming along nicely.

Happy birthday Robert John, on May 26.

Jim Chalmers, a former Kinmount boy, his wife Julie and their family have now moved to Haliburton from their stay in Alberta.

Cori Barkwell's name was drawn in the Radio Station CKLY bicycle contest on Monday, May 21. The big draw for a new bike will take place at a later date. Good luck Cori.

Irene and Dave McNamara would like to thank all their family, friends and neighbours for the lovely party held in honour of Dave's eighty-fifth birthday and their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary. There were beautiful flowers everywhere and lovely cards received from many people. A pair of very nice lawn chairs came from son Hugh and his wife Vera. Thanks too, to the U.C.W. for the delicious lunch you served. It will long be remembered in the couple's memory of very good friends.

To our folks on the sick list, I hope you're feeling better, and to all you birthday people, have a happy one.

Don't forget the Spring Salad Supper, Bazaar and Bake Sale sponsored by the Kinmount U.C.W. to be held at Kinmount Community Hall, May 26 from 4 to 7 p.m. Admission for adults is $5 and children $2. Come out and enjoy the day with your friends.

Some four years ago, on Mother's Day, little Miss Heather Elizabeth Coker was christened in Trinity United Church in Huntsville. She was dressed in a beautiful hand crocheted full length gown with pink ribbons and underslip showing through the white gown. It was made for her by her maternal grandmother. This year, also on Mother's Day, Heather's little sister, Christina Ruth, was christened at the same church and wearing the same gown. They are the daughters of Helen and Stephen Coker of Huntsville and grandchildren of Amy and Larry Coker of RR 3, Utterson, Edwin and Velva Hemmings of Huntsville and great granddaughters of Mary Louisa Pyke of Norland.

I just came up with some birthdays: Jennie Rolfe is 4 years old on May 14, her dad Wayne Rolfe on May 15, Father Kroetch, May 18, Nora Brandon, May 12, Ruby Schell and Arnold Hughes who also celebrate in May. To all of you, the best of everything.

Stay well and happy, read the Echo and remember, inflation hasn't ruined everything. A dime can still be used as a screwdriver.

Give me a call at 488-2353.

Congratulations to all those winners and all those who participated in the track meet.

The Bicentennial picnic that was held last week at Ward Park in Norland was a huge success and although the weather was cool everyone seemed to be having a really great time.

I hope all those fishermen out there took advantage of the season opening last Friday at midnight.

Well I guess that about wraps it up for this week. I remind you that I am willing to include any items you feel are newsworthy so feel free to give me a call at 454-3707.

Here's a little item some of you may be interested in; the bake shop located north of Norland at Norland Discount Gas will be open on weekends starting May 18.

Gooderham News

By MARY HADLEY

May 13 to 19 was declared Postal Employees' Week. On Thursday, in honour of this special week, our postmistress, Mabel Hunter, assisted by her daughter, Bonnie Pettit, served coffee, fruit juice, doughnuts and cookies from 2 to 4 p.m. Approximately 60 people enjoyed this treat. Some eager patrons were on hand at 11 a.m.

We do appreciate the service given by our patient and genial postmistress at all times. This was another occasion to say "thank you, Mabel".

We are happy to report that Lester Billings has shown much improvement and may be able to leave hospital soon.

Robbyn Rummelgas, who was hospitalized, is now much better and has been able to return home and to school again. Good health from now on, Robbyn.

Congratulations to Cathy and Kevin Merritt of Richmond Hill on the birth of their son, Christopher Anthony Albert, who was born on May 14.

Gooderham School children, under the direction of their teachers, Chris Bailey and Jane Miller, are spending two interesting days a week on their six-weeks Bicentennial project about "Pioneers". In re-creating those early days, they made, among other things, bread and ice cream and also did some weaving. They are even fashioning a quilt or wall hanging. Each child, even the kindergartener, is doing an embroidered block. On display are photos of grandparents or great grandparents as well as costumes worn by those hardy pioneers. There is the beautiful wedding and another good dress, complete with cape and bonnet worn by Jane Miller's grandmother. A drama portraying that period is being written by the pupils. Later an invitation will be given to attend a presentation of their completed work. Those who attended the dinosaur party will tell you that you must not miss this.

We extend a welcome to our community to two new families: Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Lawrence. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have bought the home on Pine Lake formerly owned by Preston and Rosaline Scott. They have three young sons, two attending the Gooderham School and one going to the Haliburton Elementary School.

The home on Concession 10, until recently owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Mattice, has been bought by Mr. and Mrs. Ron Lawrence of Norland.

We hope these newcomers will enjoy living in our friendly community.

Recent visitors with Pearl and Albert Cary were: their aunt and uncle, Arnold and Bessie Miller of Northbrook, with their son, Bryan and his wife; Pearl's sister, Fay and her husband, Dick Snider, of Bowmanville, who also visited Theresa and Theo Peacock; members of their family: Bob and Madeline Woods of Kingston, who were accompanied by Bob's mother from Ireland; Barbara Higgins of Mississauga, Ross and Susanne Cary of Magnetawan with their two children and Johnny Izaryk of Toronto who is the son of Pearl's sister, Joyce.

It was good to see some more of our summer friends over this holiday weekend. Among these were: Marion James, her sons Doug and Norman with their wives, Joan and Joanne and their sons of Bowmanville; Marion Funk of Toronto, at her Wolf Lake cottage and Margaret Hopkinson and Clara Newstead of Toronto who have opened up their cottage on Pine Lake.

Several from Gooderham attended the dedication services of the new Christian Education Centre addition to the Wilberforce United Church last Sunday afternoon. Among the guests were past ministers, Rev.

Charles Catto, and Rev. Morgan Rowland. Also present were Rev. Henry Getz, Rev. Harold Davies, and Rev. John James. Mr. Maurice Bradley conducted the service while the choir provided special music. Acquaintances were renewed over a cup of tea.

Violet Billings attended the funeral services for her cousin, Russell Gibson, last Sunday at Kingdom Hall, Haliburton.

Gladys Monaghan and Elva Whitcombe are visiting their sister and her husband, Norma and Bob Fotheringham.

South Wilberforce United Church is quite a bit bigger these days, now that an addition has been completed. The new wing contains a kitchen and meeting area on the main floor, and a basement that will be used by various community and church groups. The addition was dedicated at a special service on Sunday. It was built with volunteer labour and donated funds.

Addition dedicated at Wilberforce

On Sunday, May 20, 115 people filled the sanctuary of Wilberforce United Church for the dedication service of the Christian Education Wing.

Among the special guests were Rev. Henry Getz and Rev. Harold Davies of the Northern Pastoral Region, Rev. E.C. Woodland of Omemee-Bethel Pastoral Charge, Rev. John James of Haliburton, Rev. George Lavery of Kingston, Rev. Charles Catto and Mrs. Catto of Pickering, Mrs. Ann Watson, wife of Rev. David Watson of Elmira, Rev. Morgan Rowland who was a student minister in the church in 1936, and Mrs. Carol Bradley, wife of minister Maurice Bradley, who conducted the service and brought a message entitled "Legacy", on the importance of placing roots for children and their children.

Greetings and best wishes were extended by Mrs. Genevieve Payne, chairperson of Lindsay Presbytery and Rev. E.C. Woodland from Bay of Quinte Conference. A number of people from Cambridge Street Church in Lindsay were also present along with former members, summer members and friends. The choir, striking in their new blue gowns and under the direction of Mrs. Bessie Shackleton, sang "As Comes the Breath of Spring", a timely anthem which was well received.

Rev. Charles Catto delighted not only the children but everyone present with his ventriloquist friend Jerry. A stained glass window was dedicated in memory of Mrs. Gladys Meredith and presented for dedication by her sister Mrs. Lillian Usher and accepted on behalf of the church by Rev. Harold Davies.

The workmanship on this window was accomplished by Daniel Erikson, one of the church members. Rev. Henry Getz accepted for dedication a piano presented by George Earle in memory of his wife Cleo.

Following the service refreshments were served in the new wing which was decorated with spring daffodils and tulips from surrounding gardens. Old acquaintances were renewed and a friendly hour of fellowship was enjoyed.

Stained glass window created by member

Keys to the Christian Education Wing were presented by Clarence Bradley on behalf of the building committee. Maurice Bradley thanked Lindsay Presbytery and Bay of Quinte Conference for their support and for having faith in the congregation's plans. He also thanked all who had worked to make the building possible and especially George Earle, Gerald Shackleton and his father, Clarence Bradley for their untiring efforts and also Ted Harrison for the plan-

Have you ever seen a beaver try to chase a crow? We have a beaver across the river from us and a crow just loves to harass him. The crow will sit until the beaver is within three or four feet from it, then it flies up in a tree and caws at him and waits until the beaver goes back to his eating and starts the whole process over. This continues for 15 to 20 minutes, then the crow gives up and flies away, going right over the beaver's head just high enough to bother him.

WI plan open meeting

By JEANNE SEARS

Twenty members and two guests were present at the May 16 meeting of Minden W.I. in the Common Room of the Minden cultural centre. Roll Call was verses by the hostesses and these were about springtime or when mom and dad had the flu. Five members are to go on the district bus trip to Erland Lee on June 4 and goods for sale there are to be left with Mrs. A. Coulter or Mrs. R. Hughes and priced. The group was pleased that Mrs. D. Cox accepted convener-ship of agriculture and Canadian industries. The questionnaire from the district was read and filled in to be sent to Mrs. A. Griffin. Plans were made for a bake and craft sale on August 3. Programmes will be planned May 22 at the cultural centre at one p.m. with executive members asked to attend.

Mrs. C. Lacey gave a full report of the District annual meeting, mentioning short courses coming this year.

A card will be sent to Pleasant Valley on their 75th anniversary. Minden members are unable to attend their party because it is in the evening.

Mrs. L. Cox gave a full report of the officers' conference and this was an excellent one.

The movie, "Threading through Time" was shown by Mrs. Lacey and was of interest to all quilters.

The next meeting is a pot luck luncheon at 12:30 p.m. with each one bringing their own table setting and coming in costume. The programme then will consist of reading, singing, and the group's history. It begins at 2 p.m. and the whole community is invited.

The meeting adjourned and a social half hour followed.

This brightly lit and spacious room will give the congregation of South Wilberforce United Church a place to hold Sunday school for youngsters while parents attend services. A number of guests were on hand Sunday when a special service was held to make the completion of the addition.

Insurance For Women Who Live Alone.

Women who live alone are sometimes inclined to neglect insurance—feeling that their self-sufficiency doesn't require it or it has been "taken care of."

The fact is, single women and men have just as much to protect as anyone else and that protection is even more critical when losses can't be shared.

For your own peace of mind talk to an independent consultant, talk to one of the I.B.A.O. insurance brokers listed below.

Is there a difference between an I.B.A.O. broker and an agent?

Yes there is. An agent works directly for one insurance company. An I.B.A.O. broker is independent and unbiased.

Your I.B.A.O. broker shops around for value, recommends the right coverage at the right price and makes sure your interests are professionally represented when you need to make a claim.

So call your broker and ask if he or she is a member of the I.B.A.O.

Students from Kinmount Public School watched as speakers talked of the town's past and the history of mail delivery in the region during ceremonies last Friday. The students of the local school sang as part of the celebration and received balloons, pencils, colouring books and other souvenirs as thanks for their participation in the event.

How it all began ...

By KEN HYAMS

Two centuries ago, when the pace was slow
When a province was born and named Ontario
When a highway was no more than lake or stream
And the taming of the North was the white man's dream
When the tom-tom sounded and smoke upward curled
Pronouncing this the Huron and Iroquois world
The paleface had no way to communicate
Every bit of news he got was three months late.

In seventy years time, when the king was pine,
Lakes, streams and rivers were all very fine
For getting all the timber down to the mill
But man needed transport that was faster still.
So Dr. John Rolph (please remember the name)
Set in motion that which soon became
A means of transportation more a la mode

The Bobcaygeon colonization road.

No time was lost and at minimal cost
A bridge was erected; the river was crossed
By the sparkling waters of Burnt River's shores
A village sprang up with houses and stores
A saw-mill, three churches and hotels on tap
And in order to put this town on the map
Kinmount they called it and a post office fine
Was opened on the first of April eighteen fifty-nine.

To those who've been serving with devotion unswerving
Our plaudits and thanks are richly deserving
Postmasters and mistresses guiding the mail
Through thunder and lightning and snowstorm and hail
For one hundred and twenty-five years they've been true
John Hunter, Ralph Switzer and Charles Moffat too

Kinmount post office marks 125 years

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

A ceremony held in Kinmount on May 18 helped to celebrate 125 years of postal service to the community. The event, which was also part of post office week, featured cake and balloons, speeches on the history of the post office and the town, and a performance by the Kinmount Public School Choir. A stamp drawing contest was also held among public school students and special prizes were awarded to the best entries in junior and senior divisions.

Mail was first delivered to Kinmount in April of 1859, said Postmaster Jane Rolfe. Rolfe, who co-ordinated the activities and introduced the various speakers, said the special ceremonies were also part of the town's bicentennial celebrations.

Kinmount began as a lumber town, said local resident Guy Scott. John Hunter, the first postmaster, also was responsible for building the first mill, Scott said. The town grew in importance in its early days because it was the point where the railway line ended.

Over the past 125 years, Kinmount's post office has seen a number of changes and a variety of locations. The building which now houses the post office was completed in 1968. As a result of three fires in the town in 1890, 1917 and 1942, and because of Kinmount's location on the edge of three counties, Scott said it is often difficult to trace local history. When it was discovered that the 125th anniversary of postal service in the town and Ontario's bicentennial coincided, he said local residents decided it was time for a celebration.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC REGARDING FOREST MANAGEMENT ON CROWN LANDS

The Ministry of Natural Resources has prepared a draft forest management plan for Crown lands of the Minden District for the period ending in the year 2000. The timber on designated areas of Crown land is grown and harvested on a sustained yield basis to provide employment and forest products for Ontario's economy.

The forest management plan is a document which provides background information on the nature of the local forests and on the factors affecting forest management within them. It also provides a working strategy whereby the forestry objectives of the Ministry of Natural Resources might best be realized within the district. The forest management plan should not be confused with the more specific operating plan and timber licensing plan whose preparation was announced in mid-March of this year.

Persons and organizations who wish to review and comment on this plan prior to its approval may do so up to and including June 29, 1984 by contacting the District Manager, Ministry of Natural Resources, Minden, Ontario K0M 2K0, telephone 286-1521.

The Ron Sisson and Ken Chumbley families attended the 25th wedding anniversary of Byron and Sylvia Sisson last weekend in Elliot Lake.

Annie Jones and Blanche Linton are on a ten-day bus trip to New Orleans.

There is a new road sign saying St. Andrew's Drive at the bridge now. This is a distinct improvement. Some of us have felt that the dead end sign about 20 yards from St. Andrew's church was a little less than inspiring for newcomers to the congregation.

Amongst the friends and relatives home for the long weekend were: Don and Betty Cooper to visit Mrs. Stan Cooper; J'Nan Yateman and sons at her mother's, Shirley Sisson; John and Valerie Henderson at the home of their parents, Rod and Jean Henderson.

Drop in Centre News

By ANNA M. NICHOL
The date for the Ontario Senior Games is quickly approaching. If you haven't already completed an entry form, please do so before June 1, or contact the Drop-In Centre at the Haliburton Home Support Services Office across from Emmerson Lumber. The three-day activities promise to be enjoyable and rewarding to all who take part.

The Fitness program continues every Thursday at 11:00 until 11:45. On Friday, May 25, we will be viewing the film, "Walk Awhile in my Shoes". This is a film where public awareness towards handicapped individuals must be increased. A discussion of the film will follow.
A First Aid Course will be offered during the months of July or August if enough people are interested.

7. Changes in Accounting Policies

Effective January 1, 1983, Ontario municipalities and their local boards must follow the accounting principles outlined in the Municipal Financial Reporting Handbook. The new Handbook substantially revised many of the accounting and reporting requirements applicable to Ontario municipalities for the fiscal year 1983. The 1982 figures presented for comparative purposes have been restated, where determinable, to conform with the new presentation in 1983. The following summary outlines the more significant changes made.

- (i) Previously assets were not segregated between restricted and unrestricted. For 1983 the assets of reserves funds are now reported as restricted assets.
- (ii) The overlevies (or underlevies) for school boards and the county, which had previously been recorded as fund balances at the end of the year on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet", are now reported as "current liabilities" ("other current assets").

As a result of the above changes, the effect on the Consolidated Statement of Operations has been an increase (or decrease) of $(7) in the net change in "Municipal fund balances" for 1983. The retroactive effect on the fund balances on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet" as at December 31, 1982 have been reflected in the 1982 comparative figures in this report and is summarized below.
